

The 35th ACM International Collegiate Programming Contest

The Oklahoma State University Chapter of the Association for Computing Machinery would like to invite you to participate in the local qualifier of the 35th ACM International Collegiate Programming Contest.

- When: Saturday Oct 2, 2010
9:30am – 12:00pm (arrive by 9:15am, please)
- Where: MSCS 222
- Who: Open to all undergraduate and first-year graduate students, who are enrolled at least half-time.
- Why: The top three students will have the opportunity to represent OSU in the regional programming contest. The 1st will be claimed the title: “Best Programmer at OSU”

Free food and drinks

Languages and Environment:

C, C++, and Java (Scripting Languages are welcome too)
Linux system computers (in MSCS 222)
Programs must compile and run on CSX server.
Language guides and references are permitted.

What to expect:

Solve problems by implementing a solution in a programming language in Unix/Linux environment; Submit the solution to contest judge on CSX by “handin”.

For a good idea of the contest, view problems of 2009’s regional contest at:

<http://acm2009.cct.lsu.edu/>

For any question, send email to ACM Faculty Advisor Dr. David Cline (clined-at-cs.okstate.edu) or President Huanyu Zhao (huanyu-at-cs.okstate.edu).

Visit www.cs.okstate.edu/acm for ACM@OSU information.

The Cowbyte team representing OSU ranked top 15 among 75 teams in 2009 ACM South Central USA Regional Programming Contest! Congratulations!

